What parts of London are becoming the new cool areas for Nigerians?

- This map shows the parts of London that have been colonised by Nigerians since 2011
- Similar maps could have been shown for other cities and for any of around 45 communities
- The redder the shading the greater has been the increase in the share of the adult population who are of Nigerian origin
- You can see how the Nigerian community has moved from inner London into the suburbs but how it is currently favouring east London and particularly the south bank of the Thames
- Data is shown at the level of postcode sector
